DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-6, 17-18, 22, 24, 39-43 and 48-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Puetz et al (US 6,535,682 B1) (Puetz). Puetz teaches an interconnect cabinet for optical fibers (Figs. 1, 5-6, 38, 57-58) comprising an enclosure (26, 926), a splice area (24, 924) with splitter trays (1200) mounted in the enclosure and configured to optically couple a plurality of optical fibers to a single optical fiber (1x2 splitter 1242, column 17 lines 57-60) and having a plurality of optical fiber pigtails (of any necessary length) extending from the splitter to an optical fiber feeder cable to external cable environment (column 15 lines 47-57, column 17 lines 59-63), a removable termination area (22, 922) with termination panels (32, 932) pivotally mounted in the enclosure to allow access to the front and back (Fig. 6) and having a plurality of optical fiber connection members (for example, Fig. 5, 134) associated with external cable equipment (from inside or out of the enclosure) (each connector for a different location for coupling or decoupling) and wherein the back of the termination panel are for more permanent connections and/or from the splitters and the front side for various equipment and/or the splitters (column 7 lines 42-67) and fibers couple from the termination panel (32, 932) to the splice area (24, 924) (column 5 lines 11-30) and a spooling system (34, 934) with a plurality of spools (40a) mounted in the enclosure for receiving and storing excess cable length (column 5 lines 39-40) and extending from the top of the termination section to the bottom (Fig. 1).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 12, 14, 16, 23, 26, 28-38 and 46-47 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

With regard to claims 12, 14, 16, 23, 28 and 46: These claims are allowable over the prior art of record because the latter, either alone or in combination, does not disclose nor render obvious a termination panel with a splice chamber mounted adjacent the back side of the termination panel wherein both the termination panel and splice chamber are independently able to pivot, a cable securing member that is movable, able to pivot about a neutral axis having an arc length for a cable secured therein and detachable, a double-wall enclosure for passive cooling or the distance between first and last spools being about half the distance between first and last rows of connection members on the termination panels, in combination with the rest of the claimed limitations.

With regard to claims 26, 29-38 and 47: These claims are allowable over the prior art of record because they depend from allowable claims.

3. Claims 7-11, 13, 15 and 19-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

With regard to claims 7 and 19: These claims would be allowable over the prior art of record if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims because the latter, either alone or in combination, does not disclose nor render obvious a termination module further comprising a splice chamber configured to mount a plurality of splice modules adjacent to a back side of the termination panel or a distance between a first and last spool is about half the distance between first and last rows of connection members of the termination panel, in combination with the rest of the claimed limitations.

With regard to claims 8-11, 13, 15 and 20-21: These claims would be allowable over the prior art of record if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims because they depend from claims with allowable subject matter.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 39 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection necessitated by applicant's amendment.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
